

Bibliomancy, Curated, 2020-21

Madeline McNamara Silverman

my body didn't get to say goodbye

go home

I want to find truer words that still have

resonance

how do I survive

the freefall

igniting all of my body memories

go home

expand my definition

freefall

safety

I want to

forgive

my

dancing body

perfect in its own right

go home

the pain I've known

go home

hasn't tarnished

my goodness

I want to know

that I am on my side

how do I survive

the

free

fall

the see-through

I have a lot

banging around inside

I don't know how to forgive

my dancing body

the rage the hurt the sadness the clarity

the

free

fall

mine mine mine mine mine

mine

mine mine mine.